UNEXPECTED VISITOR! This automobile crashed into the living room of Mary McKinney's home on Taylor Mill Road Sunday afternoon. Several people were watching TV in the room when the driver lost control and came crashing through the plate glass window in the brick home. A child in the room was knocked into the kitchen, along with the television and other furniture in the room. He was taken to the Elba General Hospital by the Elba Rescue Squad where he was examined and released. Elba police officer Johnny Senn investigated the accident and later said no charges would be filed against the female driver of the car. The driver and a passenger had been taken to the police department early in the investigation, but Senn explained that was to separate them from the large crowd that gathered following the accident.

ONLY 10 DAYS LEFT UNTIL CHRISTMAS

City Council Renews C of C Contract

The Elba City Council meeting moved briskly Monday evening with the group hearing a routine police report, paying bills, opening bids on police car, tractor and sewer lift station.

That is - everything went briskly until the eleventh item on the agenda which was renewal of the Chamber of Commerce contract.

When it was time to discuss this item, Mayor Fred Moore stated he had some comments before the council made a decision. Moore explained that the previous contract called for the city to pay the council $500 a quarter for a total of $2,000 a year but it cost a whole lot more than that to support the organization.

Moore reminded the council members that the city was asked to pay for the Welcome To Elba signs installed this past year and they were to be reimbursed. He said the $530 has not been repaid. Moore also noted it cost $1,137.95 to run electric lines to the lighted signs. As an afterthought he stated people were complaining to the city about the signs and "we had nothing to do with the design of the things."

Moore continued with a statement that the Chamber had an office right in city hall but city officials learned what was going on with the recent Christmas Festival by reading The Elba Clipper.

He announced that it cost the city $1,291.81 to get electricity to all the places on the square the Chamber wanted for the Christmas Festival.

"We need to do all these things but I was you folks to know what it cost us to support the Chamber of Commerce before you vote to give them any money," Moore said.

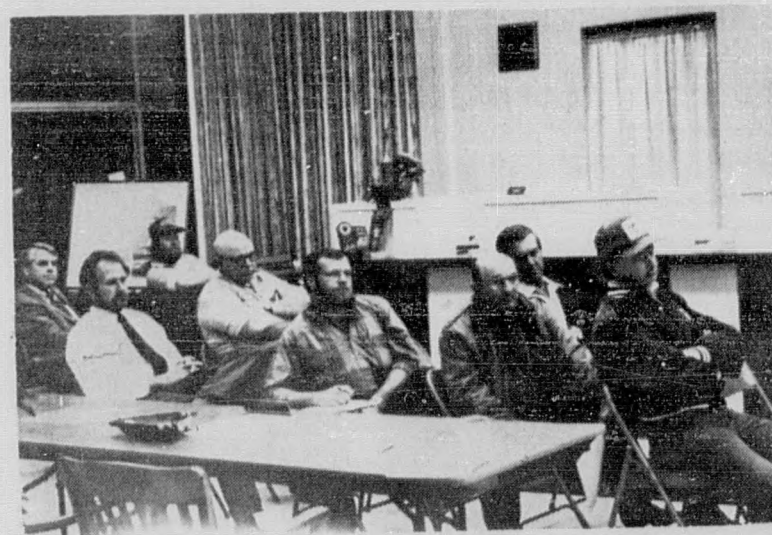

Councilman Eddie Vaughan spoke up with some information on the Welcome signs and explained he was involved in getting the city to support installation of the signs as part of the Alabama Reunion program. He also noted the signs were a bit disappointing and that is probably why some of the clubs who had pledged to pay for them were slow about taking any action.

Mrs. Jean Kennett, executive director of the chamber, spoke up and told Moore that at least two groups had given her money to repay the city. She said she was holding the checks until something could be worked out to make the signs more attractive. Plans for publicity pictures to be arranged with the club and Moore are also part of the delay, she explained.

Moore said that in his opinion "The Chamber and City need to work closely together. The Chamber needs to keep the city informed of projects they have going on if they are to expect city support."

The Council voted to renew the contract and to work with Moore and the Chamber to iron out any differences between the two.

Full time city employees were given a one-time $50 pay raise in December. This was started several HOPEFUL BIDDERS at the Monday City Council Council meeting dominated this group of spectators who were in attendance. The council opened bids on a police car, tractor and sewer lift station.

The bids on the sewer project will possibly be rejected, as they were considerably higher than expected, according to the project engineer, Bobby Lee.

Bill Smart Memorial Chapel Dedicated

The dedication service for the Bill Smart Memorial Chapel was held at the Elba Work Release Facility on December 8 at 1:00 p.m.

Mr. Billy P. McCollough, master of ceremonies for the service, welcomed family members, government officials, Board of Correction officials, and friends of the Smart family.

Mr. Ed Gullion presented a plaque to Bill Smart's widow, Mrs. Carolyn Smart. The plaque commemorated Bill for his dedication and untiring efforts toward the establishment of a chapel for the men at the Elba facility.

Special music for the occasion was rendered by Miss Pam Windham. Pam was one of Bill's favorite persons and often aided him in his ministry to inmates at the work release facility.

After remarks by Bill's former pastor, Rev. Charles Sunday, friends, and inmates, the dedication message was brought by the Rev. Richard Collier.

Rev. Collier is married to Lyndi, the daughter of Bill and Carolyn Smart.

At the close of the short, but impressive ceremony, a plaque that will be permanently affixed to the chapel wall was unveiled.

ing was her daughter, Lyndi, and son-in-law, Rev. Collier.

Refreshments prepared by the inmates were enjoyed by all present.

Dignitaries attending the dedication service included Mr. Ron Sutton, Associate Commissioner of Corrections; Willy Johnson, Southern Regional Institutional Coordinator; Judge Gary Moore, Mayor Fred Moore, and Coffee County Commissioner Jim Dubose.

Eagerton Re-elected As Coffee County Commission Chairman

The Coffee County Commission held its last meeting of 1989 Monday, December 11, in the Enterprise Courthouse.

All members of the commission were present as Commission Chairman Billy Eagerton called the meeting to order promptly at 9:00 a.m.

Dwight Adams' appearance was the first order of business to come before the commissioners. Dale Ellis was to be the first but was unable to attend.

Mr. Adams stated that he would like to ask the commission several questions. The first question was "Is the commission a member of the State Association of County Commissioners?"

Chairman Eagerton responded in the affirmative to Mr. Adams' question.

After several attempts by Mr. Adams to ask the commission questions relating to the one-half-cent county sales tax recently passed by the commission, Chairman Eagerton stated that he preferred the commissioners not discuss this matter which is in litigation.

Mr. Adams asked several questions concerning the county attorney's fees and Chairman Eagerton responded that this was a matter of public record.

Adams stated that he understood that Mr. Rex Boutwell had been hired as a tax collector for the county and inquired as to the amount of his salary. Eagerton once again stated that this was a matter of public record.

The question of the legality of the hiring of Mr. Boutwell was raised by Adams. Eagerton responded that he had been told by state auditor's attorneys that he was within his rights to hire Boutwell to collect the tax levied by the commission.

Repeatedly Mr. Adams attempted to allude to the tax issue by mentioning incidents that may or may not involve tax dollars, but failed to engage the commission in a debate over the matter.

The commission voted to give county employees an extra day off at Christmas, December 25 and 26 will be observed as holidays by the county.

Billy Eagerton was unanimously elected by the commission to serve as commission chairman for the coming year.

Commissioner Eagerton drew praise from all commission members for a job well done.

Eagerton seemed to be unsure as to whether it was his having done a good job or that none of the commissioners wanted the job as being the reason for his being re-elected chairman.

The commissioners assured him that it was because of his performance.

Commissioner Jim Dubose related to the commission his praise for a citizen of Coffee County.

This person, through his efforts, had drawn response from state government in getting help to eliminate illegal garbage dumps in the county.

The commissioners were to meet with officials from the state concerning this matter on the evening of Dec. 11.

When asked by the news media the name of the individual, Dubose stated it was Mrs. Debitha Harrelson.

Commissioner Dubose said, "This goes to show that you don't have to be an elected official to get things done - just a concerned citizen!"

The commissioners related to each other their appreciation of the cooperation shown among them this past year and the desire that it will continue.

Other matters resolved by the commission were as follows:

***Awarded bid for medical equipment for the health facility to Durr-Fillauer of Montgomery, AL. The amount was $19,842.

***Voted to rebid dump trailer to be used by the highway department in hauling crushed stone.

There was some question on the floor specification. Bids to be opened at Jan. 8 meeting.

***Herbicide bids were awarded to: Coffee County Farmers Co-Op for Oust @ $124.33 per lb.; Kinston Spray Co. for MSMA @ $13 per gal.; Kinston Spray Co. for Round-Up @ $56 per gal.; Coffee County Farmers Co-Op for Cross Bow @ $28.94 per gal.; Coffee County Farmers Co-Op for Kenite S @ $43.24 per gal.; Terra of Dothan for 2,4-D Amine @ $7.64 per gal.; Terra of Dothan for Banvel 20 @ $19.79 per gal.; and Coffee County Farmers Co-Op for Garland 4 @ $67.48 per gal.

The meeting was adjourned to the probate judge's office where refreshments, appropriate for the season of the year, were enjoyed by all.

Operation Santa Claus In Need Of More Toys

The Human Resources Board of Directors held their quarterly meeting, December 7, in the conference room of the DHR offices in Elba.

Fred Donaldson, board chairman, called the meeting to order promptly at 8:28 a.m. Members present were Mrs. Martha Frances Stephens, L.P. Hussey, Mike Thomas, Z.L. Fleming, Director Ron Smith, and guest, Coffee County Commission Chairman, Billy Eagerton.

Operation Santa Claus, which is sponsored by the DHR, was the main topic of discussion with Christmas just around the corner.

Mrs. Glenda Snipes and Mrs. Myma Rhoades joined the meeting to bring the group up to date on the "operation."

In a statement to the board, Glenda said:

"Operation Santa Claus really begins each year in October for those of us who work with the families who participate in the program."

"There is always a need for toys and military personnel at Ft. Rucker who repair these toys, many children are able to receive toys."

"This year, the toy donation was less and toys are still needed. New or like-new toys are needed now since the deadline has passed for receiving toys which need repair."

"A favorite item with all the children is stuffed animals. Baby dolls and trucks are always poplar."

Anyone having toys which do not need repair is asked to call the Coffee County Department of Human Resources at 897-3424.

Following a report to the board by director Ron Smith the meeting was adjourned.

DA'S Office Investigates

This newspaper, acting on a call from a citizen, contacted the Coffee County District Attorney's Office in regards to the incident reported in the New Brockton City Council meeting December 4.

The caller stated that the DA's Office was not investigating the alleged police brutality involving New Brockton police officers and a female citizen of the town.

Investigator Bruce Devane, with the DA, told this newspaper that he had asked the Alabama Bureau of Investigation to assist his office in looking into this matter.

Devane stated that the ABI investigators, along with his office, would investigate the matter to determine whether or not any state statutes or laws had been broken. This is all that his jurisdiction will allow him to do in regards to this matter.

If the alleged brutality, as reported by the victim, did indeed occur, then possibly her civil rights were violated, Devane said. The incident would then fall within the jurisdiction of the federal government and would be investigated by the FBI.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

We received one of our regular magazines in the mail Monday and a major thing on the cover this month is the question "Is the universe right or left-handed?" We haven't even opened the cover to find the answer, nor have we even thought about it, but as soon as we get this issue of the paper out, we are gonna find out the answer!

We did our special section on the football team in a hurry last week and knew we could have done better with more time. We regret not publishing a list of all the players. It should have been done. Also we knew it would be impossible to contact everyone who might want to spend some money congratulating the accomplishment of the team. This in turn would offend those not contacted. True to our prediction we had some folks a bit upset at being left out. Now folks we would have loved to have had more money from the project, but we hope you understand we had a deadline and needed to go to press or forget it. It is flattering to have customers hunting us up to place advertising, rather than having to chase them through the stockroom and out the back door for an ad!

We have attended a whole lot of football games over the years and yet continue to be amazed. We can look around into the bleachers during one of these long, long away games and see a mass of Elba faces waiting in eager anticipation for the high school football game to begin! It is hard to believe such a large number of local fans would drive as much as 300 miles one way to watch youngsters play football for 60 minutes. It has got to be a mixture of devotion to the game, love for the young folks playing football, band instruments and leading the cheers plus absolute loyalty to the community. Harness that love and devotion and you could move or re-shape any mountain in the world.

Elba Mayor Fred Moore seemed to have had a hurr under his saddle Monday evening during the city council meeting. This one was concerning the Chamber of Commerce. He told council members the cost to the city of some of their good deeds. Moore wanted some sort of cap on this. We understand possibly what he was saying was that we have in the past experienced situations in which a well meaning group undertakes a project to improve society or something and calls on us to help. However, sometimes when we step back and look at the deal, it is a case of them coming up with an idea and us doing all the work. It is easy to see... we have been on both sides and know from experience. Heck we have our own ideas we want to get going also. This is a good time to urge those with ideas and plans to improve life, etc. to make their plans with everyone in mind. It is really easy to get ideas if we can pass off the sweating and/or dollar raising to someone else.

The U. S. Supreme Court is hearing a debate over someone's right to die. This particular case involves a young woman who was in an automobile accident and has been in a vegetative state for six years with no hope of ever knowing anything or anyone. Her family wants the right to remove the feeding tube and let her die. They say this is what she would want. We don't know what this woman would want nor what the courts will rule. We do however have an opinion if we were the one on that bed with the upper part of our brain dead and facing 30 or 40 years in such a condition. We don't even want the tube inserted if doctors feel that is the life we face. You folks remember that and remind our family - and the judges - of these words if such ever happens to us. We witnessed a Living Will for a friend this week and probably should type one up ourselves. However we signed an organ donor card years ago and understand we still must depend on our family's approval and possibly a court also before this can become a reality. We wish there was a law that would insure our wishes in such cases were carried out... this would also remove a burden from family members in a time of grief.

We bought two books recently. One was on the non-fiction best seller list and the other is a little paperback of nonsense called "How to Talk Southern". We put these down on the table beside our favorite recliner, knowing they are safe because for their last child at home is not an avid reader either, though we keep encouraging him. Well he did get interested in one of our books, but not the one we would have liked. He has twice buried his nose in the book on Southern slang... and ya'll, neither of us needs any help in that department!

We Get Letters

Dear Sir,
I recently had the pleasure of staying for a period of five days in Elba, in the Rowe house, owned by my friend Marshall Reddoch. This was just after the conclusion of my engagement as pianist at The Lobby Restaurant in Enterprise.

I was able to observe Marshall's work-in-progress both at the Rowe House and at the two houses on Reddoch Hill. Marshall is an artist of extraordinary taste and energy, and his work in Elba is clearly meaningful and thought-provoking to everyone.

There are many charming aspects to your town, things very lyrical to the eye and ear. Along with Geneva, Elba has a particular Southern quaintness which may well attract visitors who find such things beautiful, like myself.

It was also my good fortune to meet a number of gracious Elbians, among them Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Brunson, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Brunson, Maxie Bruce, and Ruby.

Dear Ferrin,
We would like to thank every one who had a part in the Christmas Festival - it was a wonderful day for us.

We also want to thank everyone who supported us in our bake sale, and for all the hard work and time put in by those who have helped make Christmas more special for us.

Dear Ferrin,
We would like to thank each one for the donations given toward the Bethlehem Baptist Church Building Fund.
We now have a new roof on the church and a new paint job. The trust fund is still open at SouthTrust Bank in Elba, for further repair work on the church.
We could not accomplish this work on the church without the donations of those interested persons.

All the elementary SGA officers are sixth-graders: Joe Canley - president; Amanda Wise - vice president; Celeste Richards - secretary; and Shane Bragg - treasurer.

Elementary SGA Elects Officers

By Stephanie Goodson
Joe Canley was recently elected president of the Zion Chapel Elementary Student Government Association. Other newly elected officers are Amanda Wise - vice president; Celeste Richards - secretary; and Shane Bragg - treasurer. Students who wished to run for an office were allowed to campaign for one week. At the end of the week, students running for an office had to give a campaign speech to let other students know why they thought they were capable of carrying out the office for which he or she was running. The student body then voted for their favorite candidate. Mrs. Karen Bowden, hearing impaired teacher, is the SGA sponsor.

SGA Surveys Students In Class Of '90

By Stephen Berry
Michelle Oglesby, president of the Student Government Association, did a survey on the senior class for the Self-Study Committee of which she is a member. The survey questions concerned what the class of '90 would do after graduation, and Michelle passed out sheets of paper for the students to write down their educational intentions.

The results indicated that 36 percent of the class planned to attend a 4-year college, 21 percent planned to attend a junior or community college, and 15 percent will continue their education but are undecided on the type of school they want to attend.

Five percent are going to stop their education upon graduation; 10 percent do not know what to do about furthering their education; and 13 percent are undecided what they want to do at all.

TSU Student Observes Several ZC Classes

By Wendy Chancellor
Miss Karen Morrow is a 1986 graduate of Elba High School and is now a senior at Troy State University where she is majoring in Math, Sociology, and Secondary Education. She is presently enrolled in a class called Methods and Materials. This is a directed field experience whereby a student observes the teacher and the different materials used in the class.

Miss Morrow observed Mrs. Mary Herbert for 20 hours during her math classes, and observed for 20 additional hours that were divided between Mrs. Rachel Bryan in History and Mrs. Sylvia Lowery in Sociology class. Miss Morrow said, "I really enjoyed the experience of observing Zion Chapel High School, Mr. Whitehurst, the faculty, and all the students were very cooperative, and made me feel very welcome."

Students Correspond With Germany

By Pam Evans
The sixth-grade class at Zion Chapel recently started a Pen Pal project with students from Osterholz Elementary School in West Germany. A friend of Mrs. Beth Danley, sixth-grade teacher, Mrs. Kathy Petrovich, is a teacher with the Dept. of Defense and is stationed on the North Sea in West Germany. Mrs. Danley and Mrs. Petrovich got together during the summer and decided to do pen pals with their class. Every student got to choose a pen pal from Germany. They wrote introductory letters the first time and sent art work. With their second letter they sent pictures and friendship bracelets. In return the pen pals from Germany sent pictures and gifts. The students are learning about German culture, traditions, holidays and the geography of Germany. They exchange letters about once a month and for Christmas they are exchanging videos. On the video tape Mrs. Danley's class is sending the students will be singing Christmas carols and will have a chance to send a personal message. Also, on the video they will tell the school, playground and lunchroom. She said this is a learning experience for her class.

For Christmas the students from Germany are sending a piece of the Berlin wall.

Auburn - Alabama Survey

By Aimee Routzong
A recent survey conducted by the Rebel News showed that Auburn is the preferred team when compared to Alabama. After Auburn's win against Alabama (30-20) 70 senior high students were polled to determine which team is more popular. Auburn had 56 percent of the votes, while Alabama had 44. The poll was very close, but Auburn slid ahead with 39 votes while Alabama had 31.

Many Auburn fans are using the ragging rights they earned with their victory over Alabama. Camille Haynes, a faithful Auburn fan, stated, "I do not think it was fair for the Auburn team to lose out on going to the Sugar Bowl when they beat No. 2 ranked Alabama."

People really know who the better team is, and besides Alabama just had a bad day," was the comment by Alabama fan Jason McLeod.

These are just two of the many opinions flying around Zion Chapel's campus, but we'll let you make your own choice.

Vicky Bryan and Douglas Faulk show off clocks they built in Mr. Stewart's class.

Students Build Clocks

By Jason McLeod
Clock building is popular in the Zion Chapel Agribusiness class. A great many people have been building wall clocks this year. The clocks are built in many different sizes and shapes. Some are round and flat; others are shaped like stop signs, ducks, deer, and the state of Alabama. The clocks also have different faces. Some have fish, ducks, eagles, and football players. The students really enjoy building the clocks.

Annual Staff Preparing Intro For Rebel '90

By Donna Holcomb
The Zion Chapel annual staff is in the process of preparing the introduction for the Rebel '90. The introduction consists of the first 16 pages of the yearbook. Each page is filled with action photos and information about the highlights of the 1989-90 school year. Each member of the staff was to prepare his or her own introduction. This assignment will be considered a major test grade. Mrs. Rachel Bryan, staff sponsor, will choose the best introduction composed of layout, design and copy.

After the best introduction has been chosen, the Rebel '90 staff will immediately start to work on the final draft to send to Herff Jones, yearbook publisher.

The Rebel '90 staff is looking forward to putting together the introduction and meeting their first deadline.

Honor Band Auditions

By Steacy Black
Auditions for the third annual Southeast United States Honor Band were recently held. Band students made and sent a taped audition to music instructors at Troy State University to be judged. The auditions included playing five major scales, a chromatic scale, a solo, etude, or other music exercise of the band student's choice.

The Honor Band consists of the top five percent of band students from all over southeast Alabama. Being in this band is not required, it is a student's own decision if he or she would like to try out for it.

Students auditioning from the Zion Chapel Band were Donna Holcomb - drums; Camille Haynes - tenor saxophone; Jennifer Flowers - clarinet; Pam Evans - trombone; and Stacey Black - flute. The Honor Band will be held Feb. 3 and 4 at Troy State University.

Those auditioning for the Honor Band are expected to be notified of the results in a few weeks.

Elba B Team Basketball

By Willie Flowers
The Elba B-Team started with the varsity squad on Dec. 8. This team, composed primarily of sophomores who played ninth-grade basketball last year, are ready for the 1989-90 season. They had waited patiently since September to take the court and work hard for a perfect season. It is that possible? "Our key player on offense will be Benjie. If he gets in trouble we'll use Hayden because he handles the ball well. Kevin, Barney and Shane Spurlin will act as our zone buffers."

"The Tigers have a stern offensive game and defense as well. They have the people to handle the ball and shoot the three-point shot, so adjusting to strong defensive teams on their schedule should not be a chore. The team will have time to restore before and after the Dothan Progress Tournament in order to carry out their season. The Tigers have faced Louisville and Luverne. They will play New Brockton tomorrow night."

"We should be good because we've been working hard mostly on our inside game and the press," stated Terry Goosby. Terry plays a good defensive and offensive game and works hard on the court.

When asked about Goosby's ability, Coach Rayborn stated, "Terry's a 100 percent player; he wants to play and has the right attitude." Coach Rayborn closed by simply saying the season will be "exciting" to watch and better than last year.

"I think we should be alright; we might not have as much depth as last year, but we do have quickness and the players to bust the zone," stated Coach Hank Kennedy.

"Being behind and getting in shape is going to be tough. We do have a hard schedule, with teams such as Enterprise, Brantley, Clayton, Luverne, and New Brockton, two times each. That's ten games and if we win five of those I would say we did a good job."

"We're going to be playing Opp, Luverne, Dothan, Louisville, Hillcrest, Evergreen, Kinston, and Coffee Springs on Dec. 19 and 21. We picked up Pike County, Hillcrest-Evergreen and Florala."

"Bernie Daniels will handle the ball for us and I expect him to do a good job, but for us to win big, it's going to be on the inside."

Joe, Uncle Henry and Lady Growlie will be cast later.

Kids from the middle and elementary school have been chosen to play the parts of munchkins.

Mrs. Pam Patterson, Elba High School Spanish teacher, is in charge of the stage crew and Mr. Armstrong, band director, is in charge of the orchestra.

Miss Elba Winners Selected

Thursday, Nov. 30, the Elba staff sponsored the Miss Elba/Campus Beauty Pageant. There were 43 young ladies that participated in the Parade of Beauties. This year was the first year that the judging was combined to have an overall winner instead of separate Campus Beauty Queen and a Miss Elba.

During the first break, while the judges were picking the top 20, Michael Moseley sang a song while Chad Tindol accompanied him on the guitar. Art Williams, who was pianist throughout the entire pageant, put on his ventriloquist act with his puppet Toby. After the emcee Matt Morrow announced the top 20 beauties, the judges exited to choose the overall winners.

During the second break, two very talented students of Elba High School displayed their singing ability. James Jones and Kevin Barnes each sang a separate number they had especially prepared for the pageant.

As the evening drew to an end, the time everyone had been waiting for grew nearer. The judges had made their final decisions. The mood in the auditorium grew tense as everyone nervously awaited the results.

The first decision was Miss Congeniality. Miss Congeniality was the girl that the contestants voted had helped the most at practice and was the most cordial to everyone. Talisa Taylor was chosen as Miss Congeniality.

Kristy Bane was fourth runner-up and presenting her flower was Willie Flowers. Karen Ellis was chosen as second runner-up, and Phil Bogan presented her flower. Vanessa White received first runner-up and Carlos Magwood presented her flower. Miss Fabiola Torrez was chosen as the 1989-90 Campus Beauty Queen. Chad Tindol presented the queen her bouquet and Matt Morrow, Elba yearbook editor, crowned her.

By Katie Rushing
The night for many would always stand still and become one in a million. By the time we arrived at the stadium, part of the team was already on the field. The stands were practically full by 6:30, full of supportive parents, friends, family and a lot of cold fans.

The Tiger team was well-supported and this game must have set a record for most fan noise in an Elba ball game. I feel sure that the Pirate fan club asked, "Just where is Elba?" now knows exactly where it is!

Celebration followed the game. The week before was one full of anticipation. The players were quiet and thoughtful. The game was discussed as little as possible and only then with reverence. Eager fans waited for the game, their minds. They showed us their way of going out in a blaze of glory.

I'm sure that at the 30-year reunion of the class of 1990, there will be lots of talk about the '89 Tigers. For those who shared your heartaches and smiles from the beginning years ago, we'll never forget you, and every time we hear "Eye of the Tiger," we'll think of you.

Another Friday without school brought an early morning full of fan buses, cars, vans, and trucks leaving on the northward trek.

Meanwhile, the team was waking up to a hearty Holiday Inn breakfast and a long day. All were preparing for one prayer listen to the "Eye of the Tiger."

"Horse" - Reggie Horstead - "Before a game I think about how hard I must run to get US on the scoreboard. Before a game I also let Chris Thomas orange my fingers."

"A.B." - Anthony Brooks - "Before a game I sweat up a storm. I pray and pray hard. And get psyched up!"

"Joe Brooks" - "Always put A.B.'s jersey on his shoulder pads and bump heads with Jay."

"Tim Caldwell" - "I eat with the boys and talk for anything and anybody. I also prepare my equipment for maximum protection, and talk to my other defensive ends to make sure we go over defensive calls."

"Chris Thomas" - "I put Keith's and Greg's jerseys on over their shoulder pads and tape Reggie's fingers."

"C.B." - Gregory Wright - "I think about the opponents, listen to Coach Wood's pre-game show and I listen to the "Eye of the Tiger."

The way they did things alone with the other players helped to win the 3A state championship game. The students and fans of the football team really want to say "THANK YOU FOR THE SEASON!"

THE PRESSBOX

BY RICKY MULARZ

I try awfully hard to be a good father to our two little girls and probably have spoiled both of them a little, but at times I come home tired and onery and the last thing I want to hear is "Daddy this" and "Daddy that," or pick up the baby and smell a dirty diaper or hear her cry for absolutely no reason. Last week our little ten-month old daughter underwent minor surgery in Dothan and the night before the operation I was dead-tired when I got home, but knowing she would be having surgery, I wanted to hold her any hold her, no matter what the cry or odor. Everything turned out fine and the baby made it home without any problems; however, it did make me realize that no matter how Dad feels, there has got to be time for the kids!

ELBA TIGERS OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON WITH WIN

The Elba Tigers were playing football one Friday night again after the state title and the next Friday night many of the same players were in Louisville opening the basketball season. It couldn't have been easy, but the players didn't forget how to win as the Tigers surprised the Louisville Red Devils 56-54 to go 1-0 on the season.

The Tigers started four sophomores at times a year ago and hopes have been high that this will be the year the Tigers return to their winning ways. If Friday night was a true indicator, it could be quite a year in basketball, too! The Tigers started four juniors Friday night and included in the lineup were three football players who had to still feel funny about not having on shoulder pads. In spite of the lack of practice time, the Tigers hustled every minute of the game and played as aggressively as any Elba team I've ever seen. It was true that the play wasn't always the best, however, the desire and determination was evident and that made me feel mighty good about this team. You can coach a team to shoot and use fundamentals, the desire to drive after a loose ball has to be born into the players. This bunch of athletes wants to win, no matter what the sport, and with a little practice the wins could come in bunches!

What have the Tigers got? Well, at guard they are led by junior Bennie Daniels, the top sophomore in south Alabama a year ago, and Ronald McKinnon, who plays defense like his life depended on it, while over at center the trio of Jackie Stoudemire, Phil Bogan and Curry Jones all have experience and combined give the team 15 fouls to waste at one position. The forward spots are manned by either David Rowe, Kevin Barnes, Bogan or Shane Spurlin, all of which can do the job. The bench is also in good shape with solid players, so maybe I'm overconfident, but I think we are in store for much more excitement!

BEING A STUDENT-ATHLETE IS NO EASY CHORE

A lot is said these days about the student-athlete at both the high school and college level and often times a finger is pointed at the individual that gets his or her name in the paper more often for sports than grades. The grades have to come first or a student will never get a chance, but for just a moment let's look at what a youngster goes through.

It is hard enough being a teenager and handling the usual problems such as dating, driving a car and trying to understand old-fashioned (?) parents, but when you add the trials and tribulations of being not only a student, but a student-athlete to the list of problems, I don't see how the kids do it!

At Elba High School, for example, approximately 45 student-athletes began football practice the first week in August and worked five days a week for over four solid months on developing skills in the sport. The lesson on the field was learned well, because when the grades were passed out Elba was the champion. The first day back to school after the 315 mile trip to north Alabama to win the title was hectic, and after school it was time to change shoes and hit the basketball court. After all, the first game was only five days away and the practice was imperative. Basketball now continues through the holidays and on into March, and before basketball even ends it will be time to get ready for football again, with the starting of spring practice. Some kids will enjoy a break, but others on the basketball team will go right back to work, without a break. While all this is going on the student-athletes are going to class, studying hard to make good enough grades to stay eligible and later go to college. Oh yes, and don't forget what it's like to be a teenager during all this time!

I firmly believe that athletics and academics go hand in hand and if used properly will compliment each other and lead to success on both fields of competition. I'm just trying to let some of you know that there is a lot more game, think about all the other things that goes into being on the team and then go pat the player on the back. He deserves it!

DAIRY QUEEN TOURNAMENT DRAWS SOLID FIELD

The 1st annual Dairy Queen Christmas Classic basketball tournament will be held next week at Elba High and from the looks of the field the touney was born running at full speed!

Coch Hank Kennedy has put together possible the top field of any holiday tournament in the area and area basketball fans are in for a real treat. Included in the field are Opp, Luverne, Kinston, Louisville, Dothan, Hillcrest, Elba and Coffee Springs. No week sisters in that crowd! Elba fans need to come on out and support basketball, this is basketball at its best and it's right here in our hometown!

Tigers win season opener 56-54

Elba's Ronald McKinnon rebounded a missed shot with :01 left and then hit a short jumper at the buzzer Friday night to lift the Tigers to a heartstopping 56-54 win over the Louisville Red Devils, Friday night in front of a packed gym in Louisville.

The win was the season opener for the Tigers and gave them a 1-0 record, while Louisville saw its record dip to 3-3 with the loss.

The Tigers opened the game in an aggressive man-to-man defense and dictated the tempo of the game; however, it made little difference as the Tigers couldn't find the basket and fell behind 10-2 with 3:34 left in the opening stanza.

Curry Jones, who had scored the first Elba points of the night at the 6:22 mark, finally broke the scoring drought with 2:36 left in the quarter when he put back in a missed shot to cut the lead to 10-4, but the Devils reeled off two quick buckets and it looked bad for the Tigers as they trailed 13-4 with 1:17 left in the stanza!

Louisville grabbed its biggest lead of the game with 6:26 left in the second quarter when the Red Devil lead went to 19-7, but the Tigers refused to throw in the towel and bounced back to get right back in the battle, sparked by the aggressive style of the Elba defense.

A three-pointer by Shane Spurlin with 4:02 left in the quarter and when Bennie Daniels hit both ends of a one-and-one free-throw and Spurlin hit one charity shot, the Tigers were within 19-16 with 2:50 left in the half.

Brantley ups record to 3-0 with easy win

By Toby Tyler

The 1-0 McKenzie Tigers brought their show to town, hoping to overcome an awesome Bulldog attack. But Brantley overpowered them early and never looked back, claiming a 34-24 victory over McKenzie. With the victory, Brantley's record rose to 3-0.

McKenzie came out fired up, however, and took a quick 7-6 lead. But a 15-2 run gave the Dogs the lead for good. At one point Brantley led 45-24. But the Tigers managed to narrow the margin a bit to 49-30 by halftime.

In the second half Brantley stopped McKenzie's rally attempt to claim the 20-point victory. Wesley Person led Brantley with 23 points, including 5 slams. Chad Carpenter added 20 and Jeff Driggers tossed in 16.

ROUNDBALL!!!!

Louisville jumped out to a quick 27-21 lead in the third quarter and appeared to be back in control; however, Kevin Barnes hit a pair of three-pointers and David Rowe scored inside, and with 3:14 left in the third quarter the Tigers had battled back to pull even at 29-29!

A basket by Jackie Stoudemire inside gave the Tigers their first lead at 31-29 with 2:39 left in the quarter and Elba used Devil turnovers against the Tiger defense to move on top 37-31 with 1:31 left.

Louisville made a run early in the final stanza and chopped in Elba lead to 39-38 with 6:01 left in the game, only to see the Tigers rally behind the play of Kevin Barnes and Jackie Stoudemire to regain command at 47-42 with 3:23 left on the clock.

A steal and layup by David Rowe with 2:27 left in the game put the Tigers on top 53-44 and the Tigers had several chances to put the win on ice, but missed on three one-and-one free-throw opportunities down the stretch and had to watch as the Devils came battling back to pull even at 54-54 with :19 left.

Elba missed two shots in the closing seconds of the game, but McKinnon hit nothing but net with his short jumper and the ball fell through the net as the horn sounded, giving the Tigers the big 56-54 win.

Kevin Barnes scored 15 points, all in the second half, to lead the Tigers, while Bennie Daniels added 14. Rodney Banks led Louisville with 21 points.

Elba trio earn 3A All-State honors

The Alabama Sportswriters Association released its High School "All-State" football selections Sunday and included among the honorees in Class 3A were a trio of players from the state champion Elba Tigers.

The team, voted on by a panel of sportswriters from across the state, included two-time All-State selections Anthony Brooks, Wade Hart and Reggie Horstead.

Brooks, a 6-0, 190-pound, senior noseguard, made the team for the second straight year on defense. During the 1989 season, Brooks made 106 tackles, including 89 solo stops. He also recovered 2 fumbles and recorded 9 quarterback sacks. Brooks saw double-duty as a full-back and also excelled on the offense.

Horstead, a 5-10, 185-pound, 1,058 yards on 149 carries and scored 16 touchdowns. Making the All-State squad on offense was speedy tailback Reggie Horstead and tackle Wade Hart.

Hart, a big part of the offense's success at 6-2, 290-pounds, was the marked man to opposing defenses throughout the season, yet managed to overcome numerous leg injuries to lead the running game down the field.

Other area players on the 3A All-State squad included Rehobeth's David Worthy and Michael Rodgers, of Luverne. Luverne's Glenn Daniel was picked as the 3A Coach of the Year.

"We are extremely proud that three members of our squad were named all-state by the sportswriters," stated Elba's Coach, Mack Wood. "We had some other players whom we felt could have made the team, but Wade Hart, Reggie Horstead and Anthony Brooks were certainly deserving and we share in their honor. All three players were seniors and had outstanding seasons, and played big roles in our drive to the state championship."

Dairy Queen Christmas Classic set for Dec. 19-22

The 1st annual Dairy Queen Christmas Classic basketball tournament will be held next week at the Elba High School gym with eight of the top high school basketball teams in south Alabama scheduled to compete.

The tournament will begin on Tuesday night, December 19, at 4:00 p.m. when the Opp Bobcats battle the Luverne Tigers, while at 5:30 the Kinston Bulldogs will challenge the Louisville Red Devils. The 7:00 p.m. contest will pit the 6A Dothan Tigers against the powerful Hillcrest Jaguars, of Evergreen, and in the nightcap at 8:00 the host Elba Tigers will hit the floor against the Coffee Springs Golden Bears.

The semifinals will be Thursday night, Dec. 21, with the Opp-Luverne winner meeting the survivor of the Dothan-Hillcrest game at 6:00 and the winner of the Kinston-Louisville battle tangling with the winner of the Elba-Coffee Springs contest at 7:30.

A consolation game will be held on Friday night, Dec. 21, at 6:00 and the championship game will follow at 7:30.

Trophies will be awarded the top 3 teams in the event, with all members of the winning team and the all-tournament receiving custom designed t-shirts.

Admission will be $2 per person, each night.

The Opp Bobcats have opened the '89 season with a bang and have to be one of the favorites to capture the Class 5A, Area 3 title, but could have their hands full in the opener against the always dangerous Luverne Tigers.

The Kinston Bulldogs are off to their usual good start on the hardwood and boast one of the area's best inside duos in four-year starter Brandy Nobles and 6-7 Robert Lamore; however, the Bulldogs will be stepping up a couple of notches in class against Louisville and will have to be at their best to handle the strong inside game of the Devils.

The Dothan Tigers will be making their first visit to Elba in many years and will bring a solid club that is expected by many to challenge for their Area title and will run head first into the state's newest powerhouse in the Hillcrest Jaguars, of Evergreen. Hillcrest was formed when Evergreen, Repton, Lyleffion and Conecuh County High consolidated, and the marriage between some of the state's top cagers will have to see something to see.

The Elba Tigers opened their season with a big win last week, but will still be at somewhat of a disadvantage due to a lack of playing time and may find more than they can handle in the undefeated Coffee Springs Golden Bears, led by the inside combination of David Hart and Taurus Nath.

A lot of teams were looking for a place to play during the holidays and we are thrilled that such a strong field of teams chose to come to our first holiday tournament, stated Coach Hank Kennedy. "There is not a weak team in this thing and Tuesday night should be one of the finest nights of basketball ever played in the Elba gym. Every game pits solid opponents against each other and from the looks of the bracket, there are no real favorites."

Round And About
With ERIA 897-2006

Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars Hill and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, To the Unknown God. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of Heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life, breath and all things;

And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation.
